

Preference. That's what the weekend is all about. Whether you're going large or going home, it comes down to preference. John Shirley said it best when he commented, "Weekends are a bit like rainbows; they look good from a distance but disappear when you get up close to them." Sooo... Beame brings you some simple ways to enjoy your weekend, whether it's great destinations, awesome parties or how to kick back on the couch, because as we all know, Beame's a simple kind of guy.

Now it goes without saying that while you're enjoying the sugar and spice of life, Beame will be watching your wheels, so go ahead and check that off your list before we get started. And don't worry about the where - some of the best spots have the perception of being in the worst spots, but they also just happen to be the must-see sites.

...and it's been a tough week. Why not leave it all behind you and throw a B.Y.O.E Party? Broadcast a message to your mates and let them know you'll provide the venue, but that it's a bring-your-own-everything bash. Remember, there's nothing like boerie on the braai, good company and a few trips down memory lane. But if even that's not enough, there's always something happening, just don't be the last in the loop! Check out What's On in your city to make sure you have the best possible weekend.

Yes please! There's so much to see in sunny SA. Pack some biltong and sarmies, get your chinas in your chorrie and head to a few must-see destinations. Take a look at these nifty apps for the country's biggest cities: Gauteng, KZN and Cape Town. They're also great for compiling your holiday tour list!

Sundays are orange, happy and bright. Now, not all of us have the option of white sandy beaches and the roaring oceans, but if you're among the lucky coastal cruisers, pack a picnic and head to the beach. Joburgers, don't fret, you can have a picnic of your own at one of the Rooftop Markets and experience your city from the skyline up. If the weather is, as usual, doing its own thing, never fear – chilling on a Sunday is always a great way to unwind. Why not host a movie marathon with fabulous films from the 80s and take a trip down memory lane?

There you have it! An action-packed weekend. Soon I'll bring you the simple ways to have a terrific sleep, because after all this activity, you'll be iSleepy and there's a nap for that.

Eat, sleep, be happy and repeat - 'til next month
